

2006 Annual Meetings of the Wildlife Disease Association [55th] and the

American Association of Wildlife Veterinarians

University of Connecticut, Storrs

August 6-10, 2006

Dear fellow WDA Members;

We are excited to inform you that official website for the 2006 meeting has been launched. Please visit it at www.conferences.uconn.edu/wildlife.

The information is now available for both the submission of abstracts for presentations [oral and poster] and for students to apply for the WDA student awards. Please note that students have only until April 20, 2006 to have their award applications submitted and abstracts for presentations must be submitted by May 1, 2006. We regret this rush and appreciate your assistance in complying with the deadlines.

All information about registration is available on the site. You will be delighted to see that we have managed to keep registration costs down while still planning an excellent meeting. We will begin accepting online registrations early in April, and will follow up with another note as soon as that section of the website is activated.

For questions, please check the contact page of the website.

I look forward to seeing many of you in Storrs for what we expect will be a fabulous meeting!

Sincerely,

Scott D. Wright
President
Wildlife Disease Association
